To Whom It May Concern:

It is my pleasure to recommend Trudy Rilling-Collins and her mosquito control company, Mosquito Lady Consulting. Trudy's "Environmentally Responsible Mosquito Control" projects have been extremely successful at Como Shambhala and Uma in Bali and most recently at Amanpuri in Thailand. Collaboration with Resort teams using an action oriented philosophy is a key component of every project. Trudy diligently presents educational awareness raising workshops with all staff from Upper Level Management Teams to Engineers, Landscapers and Housekeepers. Trudy and her team are experts at finding and eliminating aquatic mosquito breeding sites in order to decrease mosquito populations. By attacking the problem at the source, it has been possible to eliminate all spraying and fogging of chemical pesticides and adopt a more successful eco-friendly, "Environmentally Responsible" approach to mosquito control. Detailed check sheet systems are created and special in-house teams are trained to conduct weekly checks of the property for mosquito breeding, which has helped greatly to sustain the project over time.

Trudy is reliable, dedicated, and hard-working. She shows a sincere commitment to providing guidance and training to the companies she works with. She has consistently implemented innovative and successful approaches to combat mosquito breeding, and maintains open lines of communication with Managers and Staff. Follow-up visits are conducted in order to ensure the ongoing success of the program.

On behalf of Amanpuri I would like to thank Trudy and recommend her to other companies, so that everyone may benefit from her knowledge and unique approach to fighting mosquitoes.
